EXPLANATORY NOTES

Introduction

This publication contains statistics of the financial activities of Victorian municipalities for the year 1983-84 (ie. the year ended 30 September 1984). Since 1979-80 these statistics have been collected using the standardised system of Local Government Finance Statistics for Australia, and the principles involved have been used in preparing the tables, e.g. financial transactions of municipalities have been classified to purpose groups, and significant trading activities transactions have been excluded from the tables dealing with ordinary services and appear separately in Tables 9 and 10.

2. The whole of Victoria, with the exception of the State Electricity Commission's Yallourn Works Area and other unincorporated areas, accounting for 49,370 hectares and a population of 70 (at 30 June 1984), is under the control of 211 municipalities which exercise powers and functions granted to them by statute, principally the Local Government Act.

3. The powers of councils include the levying of rates and the borrowing of money to enable them to carry out their functions. Chief among these are the provision and maintenance of roads and footpaths, street lighting, health, sanitary and garbage services, and recreational facilities. In addition, some councils have established business undertakings, the major of which are concerned with the reticulation of electrical power. Eleven municipalities, all in the Melbourne Statistical Division, supply electricity under bulk supply arrangements with the State Electricity Commission.

4. According to the ABS definitions of Public Sector Enterprise Units, legal entities which engage in both activities relevant to public trading enterprises and general government enterprises are split into separate enterprises where the legal entity is a local government authority with any of the following types of trading undertakings:

- (a) electricity undertakings;
- (b) gas undertakings;
- (c) abattoir undertakings;
- (d) bus transport undertakings;
- (e) water supply undertakings with a total annual current expenditure for all such undertakings greater than $50,000 measured in 1977-78 prices;

- (f) sewerage undertakings with a total annual current expenditure for all such undertakings greater than $50,000 measured in 1977-78 prices; and
- (g) any other trading undertaking with annual revenue greater than $500,000 measured in 1977-78 prices;

5. Services provided by municipalities are partly financed by local taxes (rates) which are levied on the owners or occupiers of rateable property in each municipality. A municipality may rate on the net annual value or site value of a rateable property, or on a combination of both. Any change in the basis of rating may be subject to a poll of ratepayers. At 30 September 1984, one hundred and forty nine municipalities were rating on net annual value, fifty nine, on site value, and three on a combination of net annual value and site value.

6. In this publication figures for statistical divisions have been included for most tables. Because of the impracticality of apportioning the finances of municipalities which lie partly within one statistical division and partly within another, the Shires of Cranbourne, Healesville, and Pakenham have been included in the Melbourne Statistical Division. The map of statistical divisions at the back of this publication shows the allocation of other municipalities.

Reliability

7. Financial data collected for this publication are checked against the statement of accounts of each municipality. In some cases differences between local government accounting terminology and procedures on the one hand and economic or statistical requirements on the other may affect the comparability of the treatment of certain financial transactions. Overheads are not allocated on a standard basis in Victoria and for this reason functional expenditure data are not comparable between LGAs. For details of the concepts and special treatments required to generate standardised local government finance statistics refer to Standardised Local Government Finance Statistics, Australia (1212.0).

Related publications

8. Standardised local government finance statistics are available on magnetic tape and microfiche for all local government authorities

(except County Councils in NSW) in the six States and the Northern Territory. For details of the packages available and relevant prices see the Standardised Local Government Finance Statistics, Australia (1212.0). A full description of the powers, duties, and activities of municipalities can be found in the Local government chapters of the Victorian Year Book (1301.2).
