Due to a coding error, the estimates in TABLE 6, TYPE OF HOT WATER SYSTEM BY STATE AND STATE CAPITAL CITIES, 1985-86, for the number of households using off-peak electricity were transposed with those not using the off-peak tariff.

2. A corrected version of Table 6, which includes revised subtotals, appears on page 2 of this Corrigendum.
3. The opportunity is taken to notify the following typographical errors found since in the publication.

Table 1 — the estimated percentage of households in New South Wales during 1985-86 with a Washing machine is 92.4 not 9.24 as was published.

Table 7 — the column headings under Australia should read State Capitals and Total rather than as was published.

(a) Includes a small number of households where the respondent did not know if the hot water system was shared. (b) Whether the hot water system was shared was not asked at separate houses, mobile/improvised dwellings and combined shop, etc./dwellings, see Table 2. Where the hot water system was shared, the energy source was not determined. (c) Not asked whether the hot water system was using an off-peak tariff. (d) Includes some households who were using an off-peak tariff.
