EXPLANATORY NOTES

Introduction

This publication presents statistics compiled from the Census of Manufacturing Establishments for 1983-84. It contains selected items of data classified by employment size group and industry class and complements the principal annual publication Manufacturing Establishments, Details of Operations by Industry Class, Australia (8203 0).

2. The annual manufacturing census is conducted as a component of the ABS's integrated economic statistics system. This system has been developed so that data from each industry sector conform to the same basic conceptual standards thereby allowing comparative analysis between and across the various industry sectors. The results of this census are therefore comparable with economic data collections undertaken annually for the mining, electricity and gas industries and periodically for the wholesale trade, retail trade, construction and transport industries.

3. The period covered by the annual census is in general the twelve months ended 30 June. Where businesses find it impossible to supply information on this basis a substitute accounting year is used.

Scope

4. While the statistics in the principal publication relate to all manufacturing establishments which operated during the whole or any part of the year ended June 1984 (including separately located administrative offices and ancillary units serving these establishments) the statistics in this publication relate only to those manufacturing establishments which were operating at 30 June 1984 (excluding any separately located administrative offices and ancillary units serving them).

Classification

5. The statistics contained herein are classified according to the employment size group and industry class of the individual establishments concerned. For employment size purposes, a manufacturing establishment is classified according to the average number of persons (including working proprietors) employed in the establishment during its period of operation (whether the whole or only part of the year) excluding any persons employed at any separately located administrative offices or ancillary units serving that establishment.

6. The full range of data is collected from all manufacturing establishments owned by multi-establishment enterprises and single establishment manufacturing enterprises with four or more persons employed. Tables 1 and 2 relate to statistics for these establishments. Employment and wages and salaries data only are collected from single establishment manufacturing enterprises with fewer than four persons employed, for which statistics are shown in Table 3. These small enterprises contribute only marginally to statistical aggregates other than number of establishments.

7. From 1983-84, the classification of census units to industry is based on the 1983 edition of the ASIC. The only changes to manufacturing resulting from use of the revised version of the ASIC relate to establishments mainly engaged in minor repairs to aircraft or railway or tramway rolling stock. Previously these establishments were excluded from manufacturing but are now included in industry subdivision 32 - Transport Equipment.

Definitions

8. The information shown in the tables for the various items defined below relates to establishments which were operating at 30 June 1984

Establishments at 30 June (see paragraph 9). The number of establishments in operation at 30 June relates to manufacturing establishments as such and does not include the numbers of separately located administrative offices and ancillary units.

Employment. Working proprietors at end of June and employees on the payroll of the last pay period in June, excluding any persons employed at any separately located administrative offices or ancillary units serving the establishment.

Wages and Salaries. The wages and salaries of all employees of the establishment, excluding those paid to employees employed at any separately located administrative offices or ancillary units serving that establishment. Drawings of working proprietors are excluded.

Turnover (see paragraph 10). Sales (exclusive of excise and sales tax) of goods whether produced by the establishment or not, plus transfers out of goods to other establishments of the same enterprise, plus bounties and subsidies on production, plus all other operating revenue from outside the enterprise (such as commission, repair and service revenue, rent, leasing and hiring revenue), plus capital work done for own use, or for rental or lease. Receipts from interest, royalties, dividends, and the sale of fixed tangible assets are excluded.

Purchases, transfers in and selected expenses (see paragraph 10). Purchases of materials, fuels, power, containers, etc. and goods for resale, plus transfers in of goods from other establishments of the enterprise, plus charges for commission and sub-contract work, repair and maintenance expenses, outward freight and cartage, motor vehicle running expenses and sales commission payments and rent, leasing and hiring expenses.

Value added (see paragraph 11). Turnover, plus increase (or less decrease) in the value of stocks, less purchases, transfers in and selected expenses.

9. Year to year changes in number of establishments should be interpreted with care as they may reflect merely the net movement of marginal small single establishment enterprises between the categories of informants described in paragraph 6 above. The effects of such movements on any of the other statistical aggregates are insignificant.

10. Transfers to and from other establishments of the enterprise referred to in the definitions of Turnover and Purchases, transfers in and selected expenses are valued, for statistical purposes, at prices commensurate with the prices which would have been received or paid if the establishments concerned had been under separate ownership, i.e. at commercial selling price. A significant proportion of the commodities manufactured by some industries (e.g. the petroleum refining industry) is manufactured on commission for non-manufacturing enterprises from materials owned and supplied by those enterprises. As a consequence the turnover figures do not reflect the gross value of those commodities but only the commission earned relating thereto. For similar reasons the value of materials used in producing those commodities is likewise not reflected in the figures for purchases, transfers in and selected expenses.

11. While value added is the basic measure of an industry's contribution to total production it cannot be inferred that when wages and salaries are deducted from value added, the whole of the surplus is available for profit. There are many miscellaneous expenses (such as depreciation, workers' compensation insurance, other insurance, pay-roll tax, income tax, rates, advertising, interest on borrowed funds, bad debts, and other sundry charges) which are not taken into account in arriving at value added. Value added as calculated in this publication differs from the concept used in the National Accounts where the concept of value added also excludes some administrative expenses and sundry charges, and the change in stocks component is measured by valuing the physical change in stocks at current prices. It is not practicable in these censuses to collect data fully in accord with the National Accounts concept of value added.
