

The Australian National University

Memorial Lecture

This will be the thirteenth John Curtin Memorial Lecture organised by the Research School of Social Sciences. The series was initiated with a gift given by the late Dr John Dedman, a cabinet colleague of the wartime Prime Minister, and long-time member of the ANU Council.

Hear! Hear!

'Getting it right —
some thoughts on the politics of consensus'
by Dr Neal Blewett,
Minister for Health

Wednesday
17th August 1983
at 8.15pm
H.C. Coombs Lecture Theatre,
Fellows Road, ANU

This lecture is free, and interested members of the public are warmly invited to attend.

No bookings needed.
Further information to University Information.
Telephone 49 2633 or 49 4144.