

Ken Freeman is one of Australia's most celebrated Astronomers and Astrophysicists. Ken shares his early impressions of Stromlo, memories of his time at the Observatory and details of his research and discoveries.