

Mega-journal multi-journal
and books platform

Open Library of Humanities

How Many Libraries and How Much per Library?

Not-for-Profit
Open Access
Collectively
Funded

All libraries paying USD$1000.

Graph outlines the cost per article per institution with different levels of article outputs and numbers of libraries participating.

To fund an operation publishing 250 articles and 12 books in partnership with reputable presses per year, we need a banded average of just $700 from 500 libraries.

Martin Eve: Building the Open Library of the Humanities
Library Journal, 9 March 2015

Mission Statement

The Open Library of Humanities aims to provide a platform for Open Access publishing that is:

- Reputable and respected through rigorous peer review
- Sustainable and non-profit
- Digitally preserved and safely archived in perpetuity
- Open in both monetary and permission terms
- Non-discriminatory to authors (collectively funded through a Library Partnership Subsidies model)
- Technically innovative in response to the needs of scholars and librarians
- A solution to the serials crisis

www.openlibhums.org

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/2.0/>
<http://www.flickr.com/photos/dermartin/2955625983/>

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/2.0/>
<https://www.flickr.com/photos/vpickering/14416940341/>