

Experimental Realisation of a Measurement-based Noiseless Linear Amplifiers

Thomas Symul, Australian National University, Australia

I show that measurement based noiseless linear amplifier can extend the range of QKD, and then demonstrates it can be used to perform state amplification and cloning better than the best theoretically possible deterministic device.